Thanks Luke

The steerco meeting ended up getting postponed due to an urgent board meeting (we all only knew that about an hour before the meeting was scheduled, ie after you'd sent in the feedback), its now scheduled for Monday afternoon

Kia ora Julia

I am putting my hand up and admitting that it is my further comments on the paper that are the delayed ones mentioned in Jenna's email from earlier. Apologies – see the attached version of the paper with further comments etc marked up.

Trust your steerco went well today; we look forward to hearing more.

Kia ora Julia and team

You and your team have clearly done a lot of thinking and work on this document – thank you for sharing it with us.

Please find two documents attached: one which provides specific comments in your market definition document, and another which outlines our higher-level views. We are still adding specific comments into the market definition document and will send this to you later today, but thought we would get the bulk of the comments to you now ahead of the Steering-Group meeting.

In summary, here are the headline events:

* Our comments have not been reviewed for accuracy or robustness and are strictly preliminary staff-level views written under tight timeframes. They should not be taken as criticism of the current draft; rather, they are suggestions for the direction of further work and refinement. We do not assume that these comments will necessarily be incorporated by the EA, and recognise that there may be more than one way of doing things.

s9(2)(g)(i)

s9(2)(g)(i)

* We understand from Rob that this paper is eventually going to form part of the material that is published in October. Accordingly, the following may not be necessary. However, at a high level, we think this paper could do with:

* A purpose statement. What are you seeking to achieve in this paper? Which Objectives of Phase 1 of the RMR are you addressing? and

* An executive summary. What does the paper find? What is the roadmap for how you get to these conclusions?

Ultimately, we are reading this paper in a vacuum whereas it may not be released into a vacuum. However, despite our involvement with the process to date and our broad understanding of what this paper is trying to achieve, all relevant ComCom staff found the paper a little hard to follow without this type of clear anchor at the beginning.

We are happy to provide more detailed further, more detailed views as to how the EA could proceed with further developing it analysis (as always, with the understanding that there is no expectation for the EA to adopt our approach – there may be different ways of skinning the cat).

We are very happy to talk through any of this and answer questions when we catch up next Tuesday.

Ngā mihi nui

Jenna and team

Great, thanks Julia. We will get comments to you by mid-morning on Thursday, 10:30am or so. Hopefully this is sufficient time for you to review and get a sense of our general views (as well as the comments we provided on the call last week).

All the best

Luke

Hi Julia

Thanks for your email. We will try our best to get comments back to you in time for your Thursday meeting - what time are you meeting on Thursday? It might be on Thursday morning – we're battling various availability/resourcing issues on our side.

Hi all,

Sorry my memory is not great! I think you said in the meeting you will be able to get comments back to me early this week – is that correct? Just wondering as we have a steering committee meeting this Thursday. If you can get comments back before then that would be awesome, but if not please let me know and we may consider postponing our steerco meeting.

Many thanks,

Julia
