Hi Julia

Sorry for the delayed response – sucked into other matters yesterday. I went back and reviewed my comment – it was on the paragraph that talks about the C300 cap product traded on the ASX. s9(2)(g)(i) [Redacted]
[Redacted] I put two comments on that paragraph and I think they should be read together:

Subject: cap products?

Hi Luke,

One of your comments in the market definition draft was:

General question: do you consider other forms of cap products anywhere else in your analysis?

- * If so, how do they perform?
- * If not, why not?

Can you tell me what other cap products you are thinking of? All I can think of is a cap and floor together, or another cap price. I don't know what other cap products you are referring to?

Thanks,

Julia
