You are required ‘to protect the interests of domestic consumers and small business consumers in relation to the supply of electricity’ but your plans say otherwise.

Making me pay when a new business or housing developer wants to connect to the electricity network is unfair because...

Enter Text: I have put significant investment into household solar and batteries to the extent that I have exported back to the grid 3,673kWh so far for 2024. With the vast proportion of this export during peak times, I am playing my part in renewable energy and flattening the duck curve. This was out of my own pocket, and I do not support this lopsided, narrow view where you have not adopted a renewable energy first approach.
