You are required 'to protect the interests of domestic consumers and small business consumers in relation to the supply of electricity' but your plans say otherwise.

Making me pay when a new business or housing developer wants to connect to the electricity network is unfair because...

Enter Text: When I got my house I had to pay for my electricity, phone, water and wastewater connections. I did not get subsidized by other consumers. So why should I now start contributing to other people, particularly to developers and businesses, who sole purpose in life is to make a profit. The electricity market is already dysfunctional and unable to keep the electricity prices under control; it is not helpful worsening that by adding some kind of development contribution on top of it.
